

Contribution ID: 35

Type: Poster

THROBOCYTOPENIA IN PREGNANCY:- A CASE REPORT

Saturday, 3 October 2020 16:55 (10 minutes)

A 27-years -old -G2P1L1 at 37+4 weeks period of gestation with prev 1 LSCS done 5 years back came from Kabir Nagar, Raipur with c/o pain abdomen since 2 days and decreased fetal movements since 1 day . Patient was on regular ANC follow up in AIIMS OPD.On admission NST done was reactive with category 1 . On admission investigations were sent suggesting thrombocytopenia with platelet count 29000/Ul with repeat test done same day suggesting counts 39000/uL.Patient previous reports done 1 month back were WNL. Peripheral blood smear sent suggested moderate thrombocytopenia with count 60000/uL,All coagulation profile sent including PT,aPTT, INR were WNL.D-dimer and fibrinogen levels were mildly high. Direct coob testing and ANA was negative RFT was WNL .LFT was WNL except mild increase in levels of AST and ALT

Primary author: Dr TRIGUNAIT, Dr. Pragati (M.S)

Presenter: Dr TRIGUNAIT, Dr. Pragati (M.S)

Session Classification: Competition: Poster Presentation