

Contribution ID: 47

Type: Poster

A MASSIVE ABDOMINAL LUMP- LARGE MULTILOCULATED OVARIAN CYST OF 38*18*22CM

A 20 years old P1L1 female reported to gynae OPD with complaint of progressive abdominal distension which was sudden in last 3 months and irregular menses since 1 year.

On PER ABDOMEN examination - a lump of approx 34 week size felt which was mobile, cystic in consistency and nontender.

On PER VAGINUM examination - same findings were found and mass was felt separated from the uterus.

On USG- large complex right ovarian cyst of size 381822 cm with multiple septation and floating echoes were found.

All blood investigations were normal.

Patient was taken for cystectomy.

OPERATIVE FINDINGS- A large multiloculated cyst whose upper margin couldnot be reached found adhered to right ovary and tube.

Primary author: Dr TIWARI, Shruti

Co-authors: Dr SAPKAL, rekha; Dr KAUR, gurpreet

Presenter: Dr TIWARI, Shruti